Dear:

I'd like to attend the inaugural 2023 NSC Spring Safety Conference & Expo, May 17-19,* in Indianapolis. That way, I can see first-hand the latest safety solutions. I'll also have the opportunity to attend multiple educational sessions and network with my safety, health and environmental peers.

I reviewed the Spring Safety Conference & Expo program and found a number of exhibitors and sessions that offer valuable safety knowledge I can use. They'll help me understand how we can improve our safety program and maybe even cut costs.

The sessions are led by industry experts who have overcome similar challenges. By getting this information first hand, I think it'll greatly reduce the time and costs we normally incur researching the topics ourselves.

Here are some of the exhibitors I would like to see:
